

I live in the middle of nowhere. I have no local radio stations. Thanks to satellite radio, I have four subscriptions which allow me to be in touch constantly with events and music 24/7. I have no compassion for the radio stations. Prior to satellite radio, I tried to get them to locate to my area. They wouldn't give me the time of day. Satellite radio is the future. The radio stations should find a way to compete with the competition. This is the American way.

Leave my satellite radio alone!!
